Critical Thinking

Part 1 – What is Critical Thinking?

Directions: Answer the following questions to the best of your ability. Write or type, whatever is easiest. Have your answers ready to discuss next Sunday. Be truthful. The goal isn't to get the best score; the goal is to learn how to think critically. Get it? Okay, here goes...

Q:	What is t Patty	the name of th Patricia	e teacher? Peaches		ele all tha atricia	t apply.)
Q:	Does critical thinking mean that you will learn to criticize others?									YES	NO
Q:	Does critical thinking mean simply criticizing atheists and pagans?									YES	NO
Q:	Does critical thinking mean having the ability to evaluate messages and information to see whether they are worth believing?									YES	NO
Q:	How can you tell what is worth believing and what isn't? A. Use the skills of CT
Q:	Name thi	ree things (peo	ople or place	es or	media) t 	hat try to	alter you	r thinking	5.
Q:		name one of t university to				Patricia he	eard while	e attendin	ıg	YES	NO
Q:	Apologetics is a field of study that examines why a biblical worldview makes rational sense. Apologetics teaches Christian students specific answers to certain questions. This is GOOD and necessary, according to the teacher. But what do you do when new information brings forth new questions? A. Use the skills of C T
Extra (Credit Que	estion: (Your o	correct answ	wer w	vill gain [,]	you a swe	et treat n	ext Sunda	y.)

Q: Toward the end of the video, the teacher said, "God's Word is _____."

Draw a picture of something God created in the space below.